WHAT IS A WATER FED POLE?

The Water Fed Pole is a system that uses water deionizing tanks and a pole capable of reaching up to four stories to clean windows. The Water Fed Pole system takes the regular tap water from a building's outside water hook up and runs it through a purification system. In this process, all of the minerals, chemicals and any other pollutants are removed from the water. It is then piped into an extension pole with a brush on the end of it.

Using purified water eliminates the need for a squeegee and the chance of streaks or drips on the glass because the deionized water dries spot free. When operating the Water Fed Pole, windows can be safely and efficiently cleaned from the ground.
